

Oregon Law Recognizes These Types of Abuse:

Physical Injury

- Bruises, welts, burns, cuts, broken bones, sprains, bites, etc., which are deliberately inflicted.
- Injuries may:
 - Be in the shape of the article used (electric cord, belt buckle, etc.).
 - Not match children's description of how they occurred (fracture from falling off sofa, etc.).

Neglect

- Failure to provide food, shelter, medicine, etc. to such a degree that a child's health and safety are endangered.
- Children often:
 - Don't want to leave school.
 - Are constantly tired.
 - Are left alone with no supervision.
 - Have unmet physical, emotional or medical needs.

Sexual Abuse and Sexual Exploitation

- Any sexual contact in which a child or teen under 18 years is used to sexually stimulate another person is illegal. This may be anything from rape to fondling to involving a child in pornography.
- Children often have:
 - Poor peer relationships, fantasy or infantile behavior, fear of being left with someone.
 - Inappropriate interest in, knowledge of or acting out of sexual matters.
 - Any of the behavioral problems listed under "Mental Injury."

Threat of Harm

- Threat of harm is subjecting a child to a substantial risk of harm to the child's health or welfare.
- The presence of domestic violence is a risk for children.
- Children may exhibit any of the behaviors listed on this page.

Mental Injury

- A continuing pattern of rejecting, terrorizing, ignoring, isolating or corrupting a child, resulting in serious damage to the child.
- Children often:
 - Have speech or sleep disorders.
 - Fail to grow normally.
 - Are very aggressive or withdrawn.
 - Show an abnormal need for emotional support.

Child Selling

- Buying, selling or trading for legal or physical custody of a child.
- Does not apply to legitimate adoption or domestic relations planning.

If you think a child is being abused, you must report it to the Department of Human Services child welfare or a law enforcement agency. Nearly three-quarters of children are referred to DHS by mandatory reporters. You may be their best hope.

Help us Help Oregon's Children.

Each year in Oregon,
more than 30,000
reports of child abuse
and neglect are made.
Nearly 15 children
die from abuse. You can help these kids.

What does reporting mean?

- You must report any "reasonable suspicion" of child abuse according to Oregon law.
- DHS child protective services will assess the information you give us and take further action, if necessary.
- Your name will be kept confidential. Only a court of law can order a reporter's name released.
- More comprehensive information on the symptoms of abuse and the law is available from DHS.

DHS practices nondiscrimination and provides reasonable accommodation for persons with disabilities. If you have questions or need a document in an alternate format, talk to your caseworker.
